Course Description:

This course provides an overview of the development of the novel through the following six novels: Daniel Defoe, Robinson Crusoe (excerpts); Samuel Richardson, Pamela (excerpts); Jane Austen, Pride and Prejudice; Charles Dickens, Great Expectations; F. Scott Fitzgerald, The Great Gatsby; James Joyce, A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man. The course takes up these novels as representative texts of the development that the novel underwent from the epistolary and autobiographical forms in the 18th century to complex narrative structures in the 20th century. In addition to the major changes in the form of the novel, the course also looks at these novels as representative texts of the rich and ever-evolving relation of the novel to its social setting: reflecting and shaping morality in Richardson and Defoe, bringing social issues to public attention in Austen and Dickens, delivering a scathing critique against capitalism and catholicism in Fitzgerald and Joyce. The theme of social justice will provide the overriding theme of our course as we move from novel to novel.

Course Goals:

By the end of this course, students will have a better appreciation and a clearer understanding of the novel as a carrier of universal themes and context-specific truths; they will also gain an understanding of the novel as a vehicle for social critique.

Required Textbook: (Available online at no charge)

Samuel Richardson, Pamela (excerpts)

Daniel Defoe, Robinson Crusoe (excerpts)

Jane Austen, Pride and Prejudice

Charles Dickens, Great Expectations

F. Scott Fitzgerald, The Great Gatsby

James Joyce, A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man.

Required Assignments:

Course requirements include a midterm exam and a final exam, two presentations, and 4 short essays (2-3 pages). Students must keep up with the readings, and be prepared to participate before and after each lecture. Students are strongly encouraged to do as much of the assigned reading as possible, prior to the beginning of the summer session.

Students wishing to take this course to satisfy a writing requirement will be given this option and, in addition to course requirements, will be expected to write 1) two 3-4 page essays (argument/analysis essays) that take a position on an aspect of social justice as it is depicted in any of two novels assigned; 2) one 10-12 page essay with proper documentation (academic research essay) on an aspect of social justice as it is informed by three of the assigned novels. Students choosing this option must meet with the instructor before the third class meeting, and draw up a schedule for turning in drafts, revisions, and finished versions of each paper.
