Course Description:

An introductory course providing an overview of generally accepted accounting principles applied to corporate financial reporting. The emphasis is on the preparation and interpretation of the principal financial statements: the balance sheet, the income statement, and the statement of cash flows. The course explores the various accounting choices available to management and the strategies used in financial disclosure.

Required Textbook:

Financial Accounting (10th Edition) by Robert Libby, Patricia Libby and Frank Hodge (“LLH”) Publisher: McGraw-Hill Education; 10 edition (January 4, 2019); ISBN-10: 1259964949; ISBN-13: 978-1259964947

Readings from the required text (“LLH”) are shown in the table on page 3 (course outline).

Readings should be done before class.

Grading Policy:

The grade for the course will be based on the following:

Attendance and participation	10%
Homework	20%
Midterm Exam	30%
Final Exam	40%

Grading Scale:

Assignments and examinations will be graded according to the following grade scale:

A	90-100	C+	72-74
A-	85-89	C	68-71
B+	82-84	C-	64-67
B	78-81	D	60-63
B-	75-77	F	below 60

Curve may be used if appropriate.

Homework:

Homework assignments are shown on last page and should be done before each class. The week's homework is due for grading Friday 9am Beijing Time via Blackboard. Grading of homework will be on effort not correctness (i.e. if all questions are attempted you get full points). However, homework must be done individually. Typed or written (if tidy and readable) homework is OK.

Exams:

All exams will be held via Blackboard. Calculators may be used and all course materials. However, no internet searching is allowed. Exams must be taken at the scheduled time. There will be no make-up exams.

Class Rules:

Students are expected to:

- Attend all classes via zoom or view the zoom recording
- Be responsible for all material covered in class and otherwise assigned
- Complete the day's required reading and assignments before class and review the previous day's notes before class to ask questions
- Participate in class discussions (or equivalent) and complete required written work on time
- Have an electronic calculator (that cannot store text) available to follow along with examples and solve in-class exercises. Cellphone may not be used as calculator.
- Turn on cameras when using zoom, mute microphone unless speaking
- Student acknowledges that their comments on zoom may be recorded and gives instructor worldwide royalty-free license to rebroadcast their comments on the zoom recording for any purpose (such as letting other students watch the lecture)

Plagiarism & Fraud:

Cheating on exams and homework will not be tolerated. Evidence of cheating or submission of homework that is not the product of your own work will result in a score of zero. Repeated occurrences may result in disqualification.
