DESCRIPTION

PSYC 224 Social Psychology (Gen. Ed. Domain III-B):

An introduction to the factors and processes involved in people's understanding of themselves, others, and social interactions. Attention is given to research in such areas as social perception, gender, group interaction, attitude formation and change, aggression, social influence, interpersonal attraction, prejudice and discrimination, and pro-social behavior with particular emphasis given to differences relating to gender, race, and class.

Goal 1: Knowledge of Social Psychology

Objective 1: Students will develop a critical understanding of the scientific method and its application.

Objective 2: Students will obtain an understanding of major concepts, theories and research findings across a range of sub-disciplines within psychology.

Goal 2: Communication in Psychology

Objective 3: Students will learn how to present ideas and have productive conversations.

Objective 4: Students will develop their scientific writing skills.

Goal 3: Personal Development

Objective 5: Students will develop their social understanding and leadership skills.

REQUIREMENTS

Each week students will take an exam that covers course lectures and chapter readings. The exams will have multiple choice questions and two short essays. In addition, there are weekly written assignments (1-2 pages) based on in-class lab activities.

TEXTS AND MATERIALS

This course uses an Open Education Resource (OER) for Social Psychology provided by the University of Minnesota. The web link is <https://open.umn.edu/opentextbooks/textbooks/74> Other course materials will be distributed in class.

GRADING CRITERIA

Grades are calculated based on assignments (40% of grade) and exams (60% of grade). The lowest exam grade is dropped in the final grade calculation. Attendance is taken but is not included in the course grade.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS

Classroom instruction is a principle component of the educational process. Students and faculty have a mutual responsibility for contributing to the academic environment of the classroom. Consistent class attendance and participation in classroom activities are essential. Students are expected to attend all classes.

Per federal regulations, students are expected to engage in two (2) hours of study outside of class for each semester hour in class. For this five week 4-credit course, this reflects 50 hours of classroom time and 100 hours of out-of-class time.

Late assignments will be accepted but are subject to a 10% penalty for each day late. Missed exams will be given a grade of zero. Make up exams will only be allowed if there is written documentation that the student was incapable of taking the exam due to an illness or emergency. If a student has a known conflict, such as a religious observance, then arrangements should be made with the instructor the week before the exam/assignment for an alternative completion date.

ACADEMIC HONESTY POLICY

Integrity is essential to academic life. Consequently, students who enroll at Framingham State University agree to maintain high standards of academic honesty and scholarly practice. They shall be responsible for familiarizing themselves with the published policies and procedures regarding academic honesty (See Undergraduate Catalog, page 34). The following are specific infractions prohibited in this class:

1. Plagiarism: claiming as one's own work the published or unpublished literal or paraphrased work of another. It should be recognized that plagiarism is not only academically dishonest but also illegal;
2. Cheating on exams and assignments including the giving or acceptance of these materials and other sources of information without the permission of the instructor
3. Submitting without authorization the same assignment for credit in more than one course
